

WOKING BANK ON ATTACK

Midweek Floodlight League game of the season and on the Wednesday they are at home to Carnegie College.

WOKING visit Loakes Park tonight (Tuesday) for an Isthmian League match against Wycombe Wanderers, with two impressive victories behind them in the last week.

Last Tuesday, they beat Enfield at home 2-1 and on Saturday they accounted for St. Albans 3-1. Under new manager Trevor Smith, the Surrey men will be out to make it a hat trick.

Smith took over when Harry Hughes was sacked a month ago and has since placed more emphasis on attack—a move that has paid off in recent weeks.

Dave Leonard leads the scoring charts with Ken Oram, formerly an Oxford City favourite, not far behind. Dave Collyer, the goalkeeper, always seems to reserve a special performance for Wycombe.

Wanderers themselves are unlikely to change much from the side that beat Barking so Sound performances from defenders Gerry Olson and Johnny Hutchinson in midfield could keep out Alan Gane but Derek Gamblin, substitute on Saturday, could make a return, as may Micky Cooper.

Due to a UAU match, Loughborough College will not be playing Wanderers tomorrow (Wednesday) as scheduled. Wycombe hope to stage the game on another date. There is still a problem over Saturday's fixture too.

Corinthian Casuals, their original opponents, drew in the Amateur Cup last week and replay on Saturday and as yet Wanderers have been unable to arrange a match. Next Monday they travel to Wokingham Town for their first Premier
